

DAY 2: JULY 16 (MONDAY)

09:30-11:00

Lecture 2

Some Remarks on the Methodologies Used in Writing the History of the Social Sciences and Humanities

- Christian Fleck (University of Graz, Austria)

11:00-11:10

Coffee Break

11:10-12:40

Lecture 3

Race as Social Myth: The Emergence of International Scientific Anti-Racism after World War II

- Alice L. Conklin (Ohio State University, USA)

12:40-14:00

Lunch

14:00-15:20

Graduate Presentation A

The Cultural Cold War and Governing Mind: Focused on Public Information Activities in the 1960s-70s of South Korea

- Seung Hwa Joung (Yonsei University, Korea)
(Commentators: Johan Hellbron, Yu-ling Huang)

Graduate Presentation B

Cinematic Border Crossings: Canadian Docs on China and Festivals as Sites of Trans-local Knowledge Production, Circulation and Negotiation

- Jane Kim (York University, Canada)
(Commentators: Michael Kim, Pei Jean Chen)

15:20-15:35

Coffee Break

15:35-16:55

Graduate Presentation A

Saboteurs in Our Midst: Policing and Transgressing Ideological Boundaries Surrounding Legitimate Forms of Environmental Contestation

- Paul Joosse (University of Alberta, Canada)
(Commentators: Johan Hellbron, Yeonsil Kang)

Graduate Presentation B

The Untranslatability of Colonial Texts: Bordering Language and Multilingual Practices of Colonial Literature in the 1930s' Taiwan and South Korea

- Pei Jean Chen (Cornell University, USA)
(Commentators: Michael Kim, Jane Kim)

16:55-17:10

Coffee Break

17:10-18:30

Graduate Presentation A

Exploring the Sociotechnical Co-production of Risk, Resilience and Transnationality

- Christopher Lawless (University of Edinburgh, UK)
(Commentators: Johan Hellbron, Jaehwan Hyun)

Graduate Presentation B

"Learning This and That": Knowledge, Translation, and Space in Early 20th Century Vietnamese Travel Literature

- Cindy Nguyen (Michigan State University, USA)
(Commentators: Michael Kim, Luh Micke Anggraini)

Discussing

Discussing

Trans-disciplinary

Education

